Summary

I am a Software Engineer looking for opportunities in the field of software engineering. I am very comfortable in a *nix environment and enjoy tweaking all parts of it. I love solving problems in with different approaches and learning new technologies and tools if the need arises.

My strengths are my concepts in Object Orient Paradigm and ability in grasping programming languages, which I use for problem-solving. My interest lies in the field of computer vision and natural language processing.

I see myself contributing to build a better and smarter world.
